Leader Industries specializes in risk control services for the construction industry. Our highly trained team of professionals works on site to identify potential hazards, minimize risk of injury to workers and react according to procedure if an emergency occurs. Through proper planning, resources and on site management, Leader Industries has the tools and the training to make your job site a safer place for you and your employees.

For more than a decade, Leader Industries has emerged as an internationally recognized, full-service, safety-focused company for the construction and manufacturing industries. Our team of Safety Coordinators and Consultants, Trainers, Auditors, Paramedics and Confined Space Rescue Specialists, have worked around the globe in mining and manufacturing operations, high-rises and power generation stations, and on bridges, roads and sewer systems. From Abu Dhabi to Toronto, Nunavut to Madagascar, Leader Industries is raising the bar for workplace safety around the world.

LEADING THE WAY

Complying with current legislation is a good start but may not be enough to make your working environment completely safe. Special guidelines may be required to maximize safety with respect to the specific activities of your company.

Leader Industries will make your company a safer place to work, period. We will help you save resources, time and potentially the lives of your workers. In addition, Leader Industries will save your company money in the form of fines, lawsuits and compensation. Whether it's drafting policies, implementing guidelines, doing on site training or simply consulting on your current operations, Leader Industries works with members of your team to ensure that for the entire team, safety is priority one.

ACCIDENT & INCIDENT INVESTIGATION & REPORTING

When mishaps occur, companies are legally obligated to record the events and outcomes of each incident within a specified time frame. Failing to provide and file the proper documentation in a timely manner can result in huge fines and lengthy investigations. Leader Industries can make specialists available within hours to assist or facilitate the entire process, so your company can get back to work with little to no anxiety or financial penalty.

ON SITE PARAMEDICS

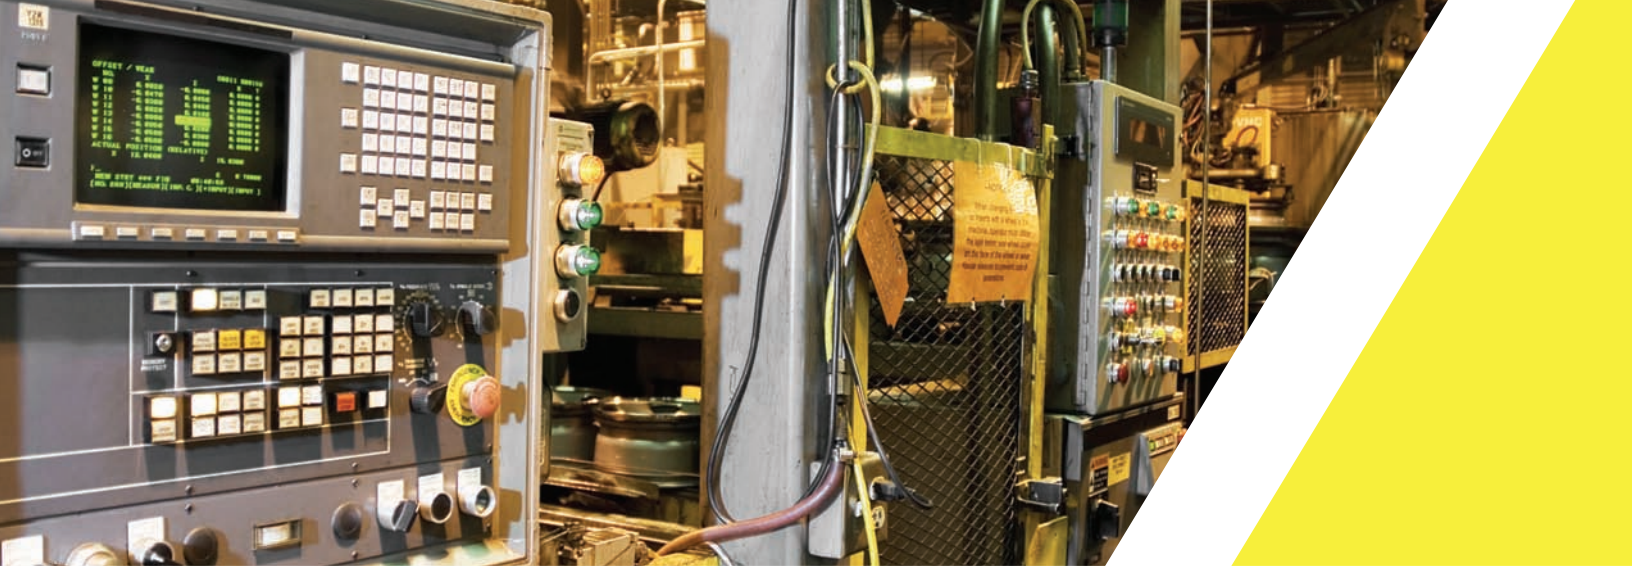

In the event of an accident every second counts. Having medical professionals on site saves precious time and can be the difference between a life and death situation. In the case of minor incidents such as wounds, illness and general health issues, a paramedic can save hours in hospital wait times, days of absenteeism and can even help prevent potential accidents and health complications from happening in the first place. Leader Industries has the paramedic professionals for any sized job, any where in the world.
